tending protests in support of Navalny. The three EU countries responded in kind Monday, each expelling a Russian diplomat.

Borrell has said he plans to submit proposals for possible actions against Russia when he chairs the next meeting of the bloc's foreign ministers on Feb. 22. The United States and the European Union have urged Russia to release Navalny and to end the crackdown on protests. The Kremlin has accused them of meddling in Russia's internal affairs and said it would not listen to Western criticism of Navalny's sentencing and police actions against his supporters.
